Dear Shelley,

As our spring 2015 College of Health and Human Sciences graduates crossed the stage at commencement, we truly felt the immense impact of donors like you, whose generosity and commitment to education made this moment possible for many of our deserving students. Thank you for your recent support of the Tom McMahon Memorial Scholarship fund in the Department of Construction Management, which ensures future graduating classes will have access to scholarships, unique hands-on learning spaces, and the opportunity to study alongside world-class faculty. Your investment in our students, faculty, and staff will have a lasting effect for years to come.

With thanks,

Jeff McCubbin

Thank you for your generous support.
